

86

20

10

Departments

8 Letter from the Editor

10 Observer

News, events, and exhibitions for the Arts & Crafts enthusiast.

20 Marketplace

Useful and beautiful items for the home.

24 Stewardship

A Glasgow church designed by C. R. Mackintosh now houses a society devoted to preserving his work.

By Eve M. Kahn

28 Collectors' Counsel

Expert Bruce Johnson answers your questions on fakes and frauds, antiques as an investment, and the unusual silverwork of Janet Payne Bowles.

84 Arts & Crafts Restorer

Master restorer Dennis Bertucci tells how to fix a split shelf, safely strip an old finish, and get the best results with wood trim.

86 Personal Perspective

Glass artist Theodore Ellison creates glowing period-inspired lamps, doors, and windows.

By Judy Polan

88 Bibliofile

Eve M. Kahn reviews recent books.

90 Where to Buy Style 1900

94 Advertisers' Index

96 Artifact

Book designer Bertha Stuart was also a successful interior decorator.

By Barbara Adams Hebard

Clockwise from top right Artistic appliqué by Wende Cragg. Sideboard by Gustav Stickley, on view at the Fenimore Museum of Art, Cooperstown, NY, collection of Dalton's American Decorative Arts. Stained glass panel by Theodore Ellison.

Marketplace

Anne Ryan Miller Glass Studio

Trained in environmental science, Anne Ryan Miller uses her work in glass to remind herself and others of nature's fragility, beauty, and mystery. Her original technique sandwiches fiery opalescent sheets between hand-cut copper overlays, creating an effect of unusual depth. Soldering and patinating the copper surface gives additional dimension and detail. When hung in your home in natural light, says Miller, the piece will change mood with the sun and seasons: "sometimes it is very active, sometimes reflective and passive." Shown here: Mighty Oak. Anne Ryan Miller, P.O. Box 566, Nashville, IN 47448; 812-988-9766 or www.AnneRyanMillerGlassStudio.com.

Wende Cragg Appliqué Artistry

There's appliqué—and then there's the work of Wende Cragg, who pieces wall panels, pillows, and table runners from opulent silk. A self-taught textile artist whose creations grace homes from Italy to Hawaii, Cragg sees her craft as similar to marquetry or stained glass. Her Art Nouveau, Deco, and Arts and Crafts designs can be stitched up in jewel colors, or with more subtle tone-on-tone effects, achieved by turning patches of the same silk at angles to each other so they catch the light differently. Choose from her regular line, or commission patterns to suit your taste. Here we show Lisette Nouveau and Nouveau Flow. Wende Cragg Applique Artistry, 12 Park Lane, Fairfax, CA 94930; 415-453-6762 or WendeCragg@att.net.

O.W. Lee Outdoor Furniture

Fond of nice weather, but reluctant to cart your antique settle or Morris chair out to the patio? O. W. Lee Company now makes a "Craftsman" line in all-weather wrought aluminum. Furnish your outdoor room or bungalow garden with dining chairs, sofas, ottomans, even rockers and chaise lounges, all available in your choice of 12 baked-on finishes and 75 high-end outdoor fabrics. Shown: the Craftsman Rocking Club Chair. O. W. Lee Company, 1822 East Francis Street, Ontario, California 91761; 909-947-6614 or www.OWLee.com.

